

SR&ED

is the largest and most important tax incentive program in Canada.

SR&ED (Scientific Research & Experimental Development) is the government program that rewards companies that perform R&D in Canada. The program makes Canada a more economically competitive and technologically advanced nation and it has been in existence since the 80's. The Canadian incentive program is one of the most generous R&D programs in the world. This is not a grant - you are entitled to this money under the Income Tax Act.

Many medical practitioners and doctors are eligible for this program.

If you answer yes to any of the following questions you could be sitting on an untapped refund.

- Is your medical practice incorporated?
- Have you collected or obtained data that has been or can be used as part of a study or research project that could potentially lead to advancements in knowledge in your medical field?
- When contemplating your practice as a whole, do you ever define hypotheses that can be tested with the data that is collected from your practice?
- Do you ever analyze medical data in an effort to find patterns, consider theories, or reveal new medical knowledge?
- Have your medical findings or opinions ever been published in a medical journal?

There are only 3 criteria for eligibility plus evidence

- Scientific uncertainty
- Scientific advancement
- Systematic investigation
- Scientific content and evidence

You could qualify for a refund worth up to 68% of your expenses attributable to SR&ED projects. But how do you get approved? ASK US!
